MICHAEL E. WASHINGTON, EDITOR

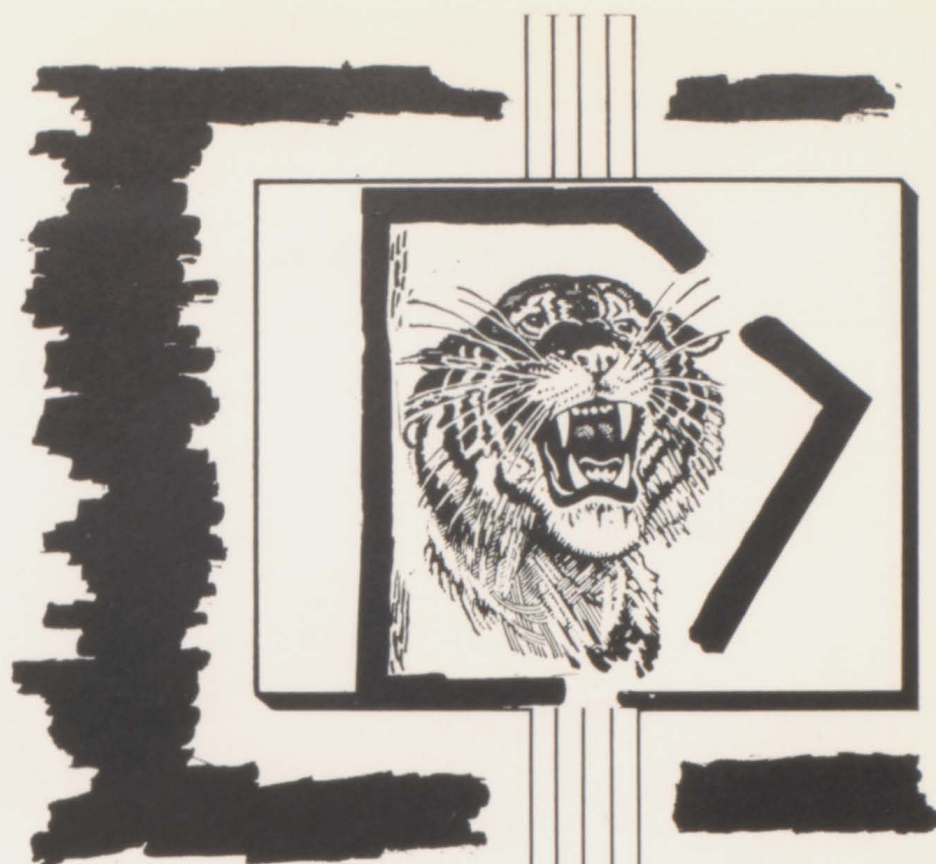

Hi there,

Hope you enjoy this 1965 edition of THE TIGER. We certainly had fun getting it together. Our theme this year is "Education Pays Dividends." We think it gives us something to hang on to. Think about it as you examine these pages. Happy viewing!

Dedication

"Nothing bigger can come to a human being than to love a great cause more than life itself and to have the privilege throughout life of working for that cause."

All of us do not know that the quotation above best describes the person of Mr. George Fambro, Head of the Vocational Department. He is one who has dedicated his life, not only to his chosen field but also to the good of our school and all of its students. The students of Ballard-Hudson Senior High School, with deep affection and everlasting gratitude, take great pride in dedicating this year's TIGER to our beloved MR. FAMBRO.

Foreword

The demands of current living, the pressures of daily requirements, and the urgency of continuous growth cause us to ponder a while over our place in this involved and confusing framework of existence.

Certainly, each of these details places upon us the burden of duty to cope with them in such a way that we can contribute the greatest good.

Grasping to us the tools which might mean final victory in the establishment of the Great Society, we hold EDUCATION high as the primary source of power.

This edition of THE TIGER presents the idea that in our quest for learning here at Ballard-Hudson Senior High School we have discovered the real truth in the philosophy that "Education Pays Dividends."

GREETINGS

Within the pages of this book is something more meaningful than print and pictures - herein lies your way of life. May the memories, as you read these pages in years to come, be pleasant - may the ideals of Ballard-Hudson High School live long in your hearts and guide you toward a better life.

As you pass this way, through doors that have seen so many come and go, may you go forward eagerly to open doors to the future and whatever it may bring - for when one door is shut - another opens.

Congratulations to each of you, both the graduate and the under-graduate, and a sincere wish that the year of 1964-1965 has been your most profitable school year.

Sincerely,

B. F. Merritt, Jr.

SUPERINTENDENT

JULIUS GHOLSON

SUPERINTENDENT'S MESSAGE

To each of the 1965 graduates of the Ballard-Hudson Senior High School we wish to express our most sincere congratulations. Without the interest, the guidance, the leadership, and sometimes a little prodding on the part of the faculty and administration this goal could not have been reached. To them we extend our thanks for an excellent achievement.

Your theme, Education Pays Dividends, features scholarship as the foremost objective in the school. As a graduate you have shown your ability to attain this goal. You have received something that no one can take away from you. We charge you and challenge you to treat this bit of education you have received as a seed. Cultivate it and it will continue to grow and pay dividends throughout your lifetime. As a result of this you will enjoy more of the riches of life, be a far better citizen, and serve your community and your fellow-man to a much greater extent.

Julius Gholson
Superintendent

IN CONGRESS, JULY 4, 1776.

The unanimous Declaration of the thirteen united States

When in the Course of human events, it becomes necessary for one People to dissolve the political bands which have connected them with another, and to assume among the Powers of the earth, the separate and equal station to which the Laws of Nature and of Nature's God entitle them, a decent respect to the opinions of mankind requires that they should declare the causes which impel them to the separation.

We hold these truths to be self-evident, that all men are created equal, that they are endowed by their Creator with certain unalienable Rights, that among these are Life, Liberty and the pursuit of Happiness. — That to secure these rights, Governments are instituted among Men, deriving their just powers from the consent of the governed, — That whenever any Form of Government becomes destructive of these ends, it is the Right of the People to alter or to abolish it, and to institute new Government, laying its foundation on such Principles, and organizing its Powers in such form, as to them shall seem most likely to effect their Safety and Happiness. Prudence, indeed, dictates that Governments long established should not be changed for light and transient causes; and repeated injuries and oppressions have always been borne by the Patience of the People. But when a long train of such abuses and usurpations, pursuing invariably the same Object, evinces a design to reduce them to absolute Tyranny, it is their right, it is their duty, to throw off such Government, and to provide new Guards for their future security. — Such has been the patient sufferance of these Colonies, and such has been the unity and close connection of their States, that they have not thought it proper to sever the political bands which have connected them with Great Britain, but to remain united with them as one People.

Now, therefore, the united Colonies by these presents, do declare themselves free and independent States, absolved from all allegiance to the British Crown, and that all political connections between them and Great Britain are and ought to be totally dissolved; and that as Free and Independent States, they have full power to levy War, conclude Peace, contract Alliances, enter into Commercials, and to do all other Acts and Things which Independent States may of right do.

And for the support of this Declaration, we the undersigned Delegates of the People of these Colonies, by these presents, do hereby bind ourselves, our Children and Posterity, to the support of this Declaration, as in and to the said Declaration more fully expressed.

In Witness whereof, we have hereunto set our hands and seals, this fourth day of July, 1776.

Principal's Message

The yearbook staff of 1965, in this year's edition of THE TIGER, have developed a meaningful theme, "Education Pays Dividends." I feel proud of the emphasis they have given to their conviction that education is a vital key to survival in the complex modern society.

The pictorial review revealed on these pages confirms the fact that our students are truly deriving great benefits--the DIVIDENDS--from all they are exposed to.

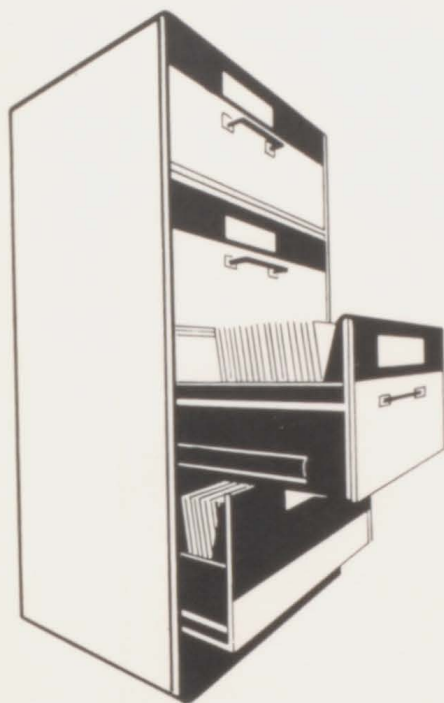

My sincere blessings upon these young people; my heartiest congratulations for a job well done. For dedication and perseverance such as this their dividends are certain to grow and increase.
